

Layered up

Spring fashion takes on a whole new look as the warmer days take hold. Loose layers create a soft and feminine feel with natural fabrics providing a practical, yet attractive option. Colours range from vibrant, hot pinks to pastel shades this spring and the flattering bias cut is a popular mainstay.

Ruffles feature heavily on hemlines and the jagged edge adds to the romantic trend this year. Top layers feature a modern take on the twin-set, with the long cardigan a prominent feature, whether in crochet or cool cotton.

Trousers maintain the wide leg of previous years, but combined with a loose fitting tunic offers a smart but casual feel suitable for most occasions.
