Waist high

Spring 2010 brings the era of the high-waisted trouser. Flattering to the midriff and the ability to elongate the leg this is a sure-fired winner of the season. Whether you are sporting jeans or linen trousers, make sure they sit high upon the waist rather than the hips for that ultra-modern look.

Although blocks of colour feature heavily on the catwalk, echoing a sixties theme, floral prints are still popular with designers and offer an alternative to the stark and often bold colourways. Brighten the outfit by choosing a stunning mauve against a crisp white pattern, matched with a pretty bolero or cardigan for the cooler evenings.
