Grand Opening for Hall Farm Hotel

Hall Farm Hotel at Ashby cum Fenby officially opened its doors with special guest Tobias Ellwood MP, Shadow Minister for Culture, Media and Sport performing the honours.

Matthew and Angela Durrant, the husband and wife team who have invested £500,000 in the development, welcomed guests with champagne and canapés in the reception area of the hotel that was once a bungalow they lived in when they first began the business. Guests enjoyed wandering through the eight new bespoke bedrooms, which are set on two floors, with the windows on the first floor opening onto balconies.

The facilities include state of the art technology installed in each room with large flat screen LCD satellite television and wireless internet access, complete with surround sound in the bathrooms. Luxurious granite bathrooms and complimentary robes and toiletries ensure that this is a tranquil haven set amidst the quiet setting of Ashby cum Fenby.
